Character Description/Portrait

A support character with multiple strong options for empowering their allies. In combat, the Performer is able to use augments to strengthen their allies or Healing Word to sustain them from a safe distance. Their main weakness is their low HP; they won't last long if they're the center of attention during a fight.

The Accelerated Assistance Talent allows them to cast Augments faster, and the Fortifying Voice Lesson means they also give allies some damage reduction with each Augment. Healing Word provides straightforward healing, and if needed they can deal damage directly with Elemental Lance.

When you start the game, choose between two stat increases: Initiative +4 or Mental Offense +1.

Initiative gives you better reactions and makes you more likely to act first in a fight. For this choice, your Initiative Modifier increases from 1 to 5.

Mental Offense increases your accuracy and damage with Elemental Lance. For this choice, your Mental Offense increases from 2 to 3.

Personality Traits

Outside of fights, the Performer excels in social scenes. Of course they have a high Performance Skill to captivate their audience, on top of Diplomacy to garner popularity and Deception if they need to manipulate people. Their high Empathy makes them good at detecting lies and understanding people, and high Streetwise means they know the way around shady situations. They also have good History and Lore Skills, able to contribute knowledge to the group when needed.

The Performer also has the Well Connected Utility. This means they have friends in most settlements, a character controlled by the Arbiter who is on their side. This could be from the Performer traveling a lot, or due to being famous enough to have fans around the realm. This connection can do a lot to help the party as they travel.
